
A lower practice score must still lead to better test predictions.