

The surface axes are position, time and envelope magnitude. The oscillatory traces are illustrative, not calibrated surface elevation.